

THERMOCHEM[®]

Position: Assembly Technician II

Description: Assembly Technicians at Thermochem rigorously test new designs, work hands on to build new equipment and service highly specialized first of a kind systems designed to meet the diverse needs of the Geothermal Industry. The role of a technician is challenging, demands a broad workshop skillset, and is vital to Thermochem's continued success in the Geothermal industry. In addition to basic machining & workshop skills, electro/mechanical aptitude, and responsible creativity, Thermochem technicians have a continued focus on safety and a commitment to producing quality equipment for our customers.

Qualifications: This position is full-time and includes benefits. It is open to applicants with a minimum AA/AS degree, a relevant trade certification or equivalent, and minimum five (5) years applicable work experience.

Join us! Contact us for more information about this opportunity.
www.thermochem.com or barbara@thermochem.com.